

Coach Baseball Right Coach's Checklist

Coach Baseball Right Coach's Checklist

- A coach whose kids come back every year to play for him/her.
- A coach that raises attainable expectations and standards for their players and their parents.
- A coach that focuses on helping kids develop personally and athletically.
- A coach that is concerned with the health and well-being of their players.
- A coach that uses research backed health and well-being, mindset, and development resources.
- A coach that knows how to identify and teach from "teachable" moments.
- A coach that has a genuine interest in their players' academic performance.
- A coach that follows a pre-season, in-season, and postseason plan or guide.
- A coach that uses coaching resources on a weekly basis at practice(s) and during the games.
- A coach that implements a scaffolded and progressive practice plan throughout the season.
- A coach that implements a detailed hitting program for individual players and the team.
- A coach that congratulates players who grew in personal development, rather than their stats.

Your Notes: