

Coach Baseball Right Coach Recruitment Guide

Every administrator should use and implement the recommended action steps of the Organization and League Development Guide as a strategic organization and league wide plan.

The following action steps focus solely on how to recruit Coach Baseball Right coaches.

Recruiting Coach Baseball Right Coaches
<input type="checkbox"/> Clearly define program's standards and expectations that should focus on meaningful personal and player development through sport.
<input type="checkbox"/> Market the program's standards and expectations on organization and league website, printed materials, and meetings - as the essential coaching obligation.
<input type="checkbox"/> Collect comprehensive coaching resources that provide concrete and scaffolded strategies on how BOTH coaches and parents can teach and develop personal and player skills.
<input type="checkbox"/> Introduce these coaching resources to each coach and parent by marketing these coaching resources on organization and league website, printed materials, and meetings to support and enhance adults coaching skill level.
<input type="checkbox"/> Implement the following team coaching structure for each team: head coach, two assistant coaches, parent captain that helps communicate and coordinate expectations?
<input type="checkbox"/> Implement the Coach Baseball Right Coach's Checklist as the criteria each coach should embrace and implement
<input type="checkbox"/> Provide support measures to help coaches mitigate conflict in the organization, competition, and officiating.